

Video Game Review Site

This website will function as a portfolio where a writer can post original video game reviews. The reviews will include play-through notes, memorable screenshots, and general opinions about the games being played. The client will need to be able to update the site on a weekly basis to include reviews as they are finished.